First, there will be an adjourned business meeting at 1.45, when the mite-boxes will be opened. Annual reports will be given by the officers, and the district vice-presidents are requested to furnish written reports of work done on their districts during the year. Delegates are asked to report at once to their vice-presidents work done in their church. All mite-boxes are to be brought in, and any one not having a box, please procure one of the mite-box agent, Mrs. S. T. Emery, 808 Commonwealth Ave., Newton Centre. All who have assisted in paying the note of $5,300 are invited to come and help burn the note; and subscribers to the "Cycle of Time" please make returns. Rev. A. L. Squier, of Newtonville, will give his illustrated lecture on "Deaconess Work," while Miss Mary Anna Taggart, supt. of the Deaconess Home, will sing, with autoharp accompaniment. Those interested in the deaconess cause, who would like to give their "mite" to the mite-box fund, which is to furnish the D. A. S. ward in the new Hospital, are earnestly invited to be present.

The Allston or Brighton cars at Park St. station, marked "Coolidge Corner via Brookline Village," pass the door.

MRS. D. W. REID, Rec. Sec.

MAINE CONFERENCE DEACONESS HOME. - The pressure of work was so great during the time of the rummage sale and since, that we have not had time to acknowledge the multitude of boxes and barrels which came during the sale. Many were not marked where they came from, so we cannot give credit for them. After the holiday work for the poor is over all the supplies which we have been able to identify will be properly acknowledged and a receipt sent. We take pleasure in expressing our gratitude for the interest of the people, who helped so generously to supply the poor with warm clothing for the winter and to provide a fund. The total receipts were $261, but the best of all was the good done by personal contact with the poor and with our foreign population.

MRS. H. C. BENSON, Supt.

BISHOP McCABE MEMORIAL

BISHOP THOMAS B. NEELY.

On his second and last visit to South America Bishop McCabe induced our congregation in the city of Montevideo to undertake the erection of a church edifice in that capital city. The church was started, but a revolution in Uruguay impoverished the people generally and particularly the most liberal givers, so that when I was assigned an episcopal residence in Buenos Aires the church was a mere shell. Seeing the importance of showing progress in the presence of an antagonistic ecclesiasticism I proposed the finishing of the lecture room. An appeal to Bishop McCabe to aid in the project brought a prompt response. He secured for us $2,000 and we cabled to the presiding elder to finish the lecture room. So much had to be done that the final cost was about $6,500. Toward this Bishop McCabe secured $6,000, and the people called the room the Salon McCabe, or Bishop McCabe Hall. A debt had been carried over from the original effort and, with the exception of the lecture room, the building is still unfinished. Even the finishing of the lecture room has made a most favorable impression. The congregations are large and the pastor of the Spanish congregation received ninety-two on probation in the first year.

Bishop McCabe was a great friend of our mission work in South America, and South America should contain a monument to the memory of this glorious man. Let us make the church in Montevideo the "Bishop McCabe Memorial Church." He started the enterprise and loved the church. Let the denomination in the United States at once finish this memorial church. It may require about $20,000, or possibly a little more. Let the friends of Bishop McCabe send their contributions to me, addressed to Calle Corrientes, 718, Buenos Aires, Argentina, or send to the care of the Mission Rooms, 150 Fifth Ave., New York, for this purpose.
